Series - All Rise for Civil Justice Reform

We are excited to support the launch of All Rise for Civil Justice, an important new initiative of our partners at Voices for Civil Justice. All Rise for Civil Justice is the campaign to fix our civil justice system so it works for everyone. It centers the stories of people with life-changing problems that need legal solutions, and the advocates working to help them.

All Rise for Civil Justice tells the story of America's broken civil justice system, the people it hurts, the decisions that brought it to the brink, and the people working to make it better.

Many faces and stories comprise this crisis, but the common thread is a civil justice system that fails to meet America's promise of equal justice under law. In civil courts across the country, restricted and unequal access is the rule, not the exception, and the human toll is high.

Throughout the next issues of our newsletter, we will be highlighting client stories from our partner and describe the many reasons that emphasize the need for civil justice reform.

If you follow us on social media, we welcome you to share our posts in an effort to spread awareness in our communities.

For more information about All Rise for Civil Justice, please visit www.allriseforciviljustice.org

Every year, Americans encounter life-changing problems they can't resolve because our civil courts are a complex maze. At some point, most people have a problem like a divorce or wrongful treatment by a landlord or debt collector and need a legal solution. But millions lose their cases in civil court, not because they've done something wrong, but because they don't have the information or legal help they need.

Some BIG Changes

In February, Laurel Legal Services held a farewell party at The Rialto in Greensburg for Renee Williams, Executive Director, who resigned on March 1st and Kathleen Kemp, Managing Attorney of Greensburg, who retired at the end of March .

Message From Kathleen Kemp:

"I have been proud to be a legal services attorney for the last seventeen years. I entered the profession to help people and I believe that I have been able to do so.

I have had enough interesting experiences that I could write a book, but will not be doing so any time soon. I am looking forward to some leisure time with family."

Message From Renee Williams:

"We went through a lot of changes, and I know at times those changes were terrifying and uncomfortable, but everyone stuck with it, and for that I am thankful. This was my first time at the helm - the staff made it fun and interesting. I've learned a great deal from everyone and I thank them for that and for their patience.

The program is in the best shape it has ever been and, I believe, we are thriving. That is in large part due to everyone's efforts. I hope that everyone continues to serve our clients with the same dignity, respect and fervor, and help to make positive changes in their lives and in our community."

The Staff and the Board of Directors thank both Renee and Kathleen for their hard work and dedication to providing legal services in our community.

LEGAL TOPIC: CLEAN SLATE: EXPANDED & AUTOMATED RECORD SEALING

WHY DOES CLEAN SLATE MATTER?

One out of three Americans has a criminal record of some kind, and one out of two children living in the U.S. has a parent with a record. Technology has made records much more available and records are regularly used to deny people employment, housing, education, and more. Many people who are eligible for expungement do not file due to lack of legal access, filing fees, etc. Until now, Pennsylvania had one of the most limited expungement laws in the country.

Clean Slate is a new Pennsylvania law that expands criminal record sealing to include more types of offenses, including some first-degree misdemeanors, which can now be sealed by filing petitions.

Clean Slate will also create an automated computer process to seal arrests that did not result in convictions within 60 days, summary convictions after 10 years, and some second and third-degree misdemeanor convictions if there are no subsequent misdemeanor or felony convictions for a period of 10 years after the time of conviction. The automated process will go into effect between June of 2019 and June of 2020.

Once your record is sealed under Clean Slate, it can generally only be viewed by the following:

- Law enforcement entities (e.g. police, District Attorneys, courts, etc.)
- Employers who are required to consider records under federal law
- Employers who utilize FBI background checks
- The vast majority of employers, landlords, schools, and the general public will NOT have access to sealed records.

But, unlike expunged records, sealed records are not destroyed.

The law does not seal serious offenses such as endangerment, firearms charges, sexual offenses, cruelty to animals, and corruption of minors.

TERMINOLOGY

- Expungement: Complete destruction of criminal record information via a court petition
- Sealing/Limited Access: Removal of criminal record information from public view by either petition or through an automated process; law enforcement still has access and it will still show up on FBI records
- Pardon: Clemency that "forgives" a criminal conviction allowing it to be expunged; requires an application to and recommendation from the Board of Pardons subject to final approval from the Governor
- Conviction: A criminal charge to which someone pleads guilty or nolo contendere or is found guilty
- Non-Conviction: A criminal charge that is withdrawn, dismissed, nolle prossed, results in acquittal, or otherwise does not result in conviction.

CENSUS 101: What You Need To Know

The 2020 Census is closer than you think!

Here's a quick refresher of what it is and why it's essential that everyone is counted.

EVERYONE COUNTS.

The census counts every person living in the U.S. once, only once, and in the right place

IT'S ABOUT FAIR REPRESENTATION.

Every 10 years, the results of the census are used to reapportion the House of Representatives, determining how many seats each state gets

IT'S ABOUT REDISTRICTING.

After each census, state officials use the results to redraw the boundaries of their congressional and state legislative districts, adapting to population shifts

IT'S IN THE CONSTITUTION.

The U.S. constitution requires a census every 10 years. The census covers the entire country and everyone living here. The first census was in 1790

IT MEANS $675 BILLION.

Census data determine how more than $675 Billion are spent, supporting your state, county, and community's vital programs.

TAKING PART IS YOUR CIVIC DUTY.

Completing the census is required. It's a way to participate in our democracy and say 'I COUNT!'

OUR WORK IN THE COMMUNITY

As you may recall from our newsletter in January, Laurel Legal Services was advertising for a free legal clinic in Johnstown. We teamed up with the Pennsylvania Bar Association, the Cambria County Bar Association, PA CareerLink, and the Johnstown Library to host and it was a grand success!

From Jessica Lynch, Director of Pro Bono Services:

For those who saw the line out the door and the crowd waiting to be seen, you know it was a huge success. In the course of 5 hours, we counseled 50 individuals on an assortment of issues, and some people came in with a multitude of topics for which they sought advice. The range of topics included custody, bankruptcy, divorce, child support, and criminal matters (expungement, sealing, etc.), as well as others. The clinic drew a number of people from outside of the Johnstown area, including areas like Altoona, Tyrone, Bedford, and South Fork.

My sense is that everyone was very grateful for the opportunity to talk with a lawyer, even if they did not hear what they had hoped for. Several people asked us to have another clinic again.

Of course, we could only have a successful clinic with the participation of volunteer attorneys. Thank you to David Trevaskis (PA Bar Association) for enduring a long drive and rough weather to bring his expertise, to Robin for recruiting several local attorneys, and to Charlie Himmelreich for joining us – twice!

LAUREL LEGAL SERVICES SEEKS PRIVATE ATTORNEYS TO ASSIST WITH CASES

Laurel Legal must meet requirements established by LSC to involve private attorneys in the delivery of legal information and legal assistance to eligible clients. Therefore, we are seeking private attorneys to join our Private Attorney Involvement (“PAI”) program roster.

PAI Attorneys volunteer to receive a set hourly rate to help ensure our clients’ legal interests are protected and provide representation for a fair and just outcome. Our staff initially reviews the client’s legal issue and decides if a PAI assignment is appropriate. If so, we contact the PAI attorney for availability and interest. The legal issues our clients are coping with are diverse, which allows us to refer cases that fit the PAI attorney’s experience and interests. See below for the list of case closures by topic.
